"I Don't Do Commercials"

Written By: Harry Gribnitz

I don't have many jobs that I really hate to do around the house. The standard jobs such as dusting, vacuuming, mowing the lawn or even cleaning the bathroom provide a nice diversion from the world of paperwork, computers and interest rates that I have in the office. But I do have one job that falls in to the "hate" category, cleaning the gutters. It is the nastiest, dirtiest job around the house. If I managed to not fall off the ladder, I was always covered with "muck" and usually had a least one cut that required a bandage. Last fall, I finally found a way to permanently eliminate this nasty job; I had All Gutter Systems install new gutters and a protection system that keeps the leaves out of the gutter. When it rains, I can watch from my kitchen window as the rain rolls down the roof around the guard and into the gutters. The leaves and twigs flow over the guard, falling to the ground. It is not just a screen but a uniquely shaped guard that prevents leaves from entering the gutters.

Like Dennis Franz, "I don't do commercials", but I am always willing to refer people to companies and people that provide trustworthy service and products that really work. Tony Cobb, the owner of All Gutter Systems, has built his business through years of satisfying his customers and earning their referrals. Kevin DenBoer handled the installation on my house. Kevin explained the options and allowed me to choose the system that fit my needs. The installers did a professional job including cleaning up when they were done. Best of all, I'll never have to clean my gutters again! If you are thinking about new gutters or are just tired of cleaning your current gutters, please give Kevin a call. Please see the enclosed information concerning a special discount.

If you own, are employed by or have used a business that has the same kind of business practice, I would like to hear about them. We are in the process of developing a "Homeowner's Directory" of trusted services and would like your input. It does not need to be a business that provides services directly for the home, but one that is of interest to a homeowner. Obviously, I want to hear about the plumber, electrician or handyman, but I also would like to hear about the outstanding restaurant, financial planner, insurance agent, retail store, photographer or unique home business. I am interested in hearing about any business that you would recommend to your friends. We'll check them out, and added them to our list.
