Extreme Dog Makeover

Written By: Harry Gribnitz

It is not often you find someone that started their first business while in the fourth grade!! Auston started out by providing dog walking services for her neighbors for only $1.00. Her love of animals also drew her to the Humane Society of Kent County as a volunteer. Not only did she become a very active volunteer, but she also began to learn more about the care, grooming and training of the dogs. Austin continues using her seemingly endless supply of energy, enthusiasm and passion to volunteer at the Humane Society for everything from a dog walker to key participant in many special events. I first met Auston at the 2003 Home for the Holidays open house event. Last year Auston combined all of these attributes into starting her business, The Paw Place in Grandville.

Like Dennis Franz "I don't do commercials" but I am always willing to recommend a business and business owner that I trust. Just as I ask you to recommend me to your friends, relatives and co-workers for their home financing needs, I would like to recommend The Paw Place and Auston Gross the owner to you for your dog grooming and dog daycare needs.

I would like to give you some of examples of why Auston is one of those special neighbors that you can trust with your own precious pet. Each month Auston and her staff provide a free grooming for one of the adoptable animals from the Humane Society. Nothing like a bath, nail trim and haircut to get you ready to meet the new family that might want to adopt you. When a seeing-eye dog received poor grooming from someone else, Auston and crew turned him back into his handsome self. Turk can now proudly help his owner find his way around town. Molly, Auston's own dog is a Humane Society therapy dog. Together they work with students at schools, camps and rehabilitative facilities throughout Kent County.

Auston and her staff would like to provide something special for one of our clients or friends, an EXTREME DOG MAKEOVER!!!! See the back of this letter for the simple rules and entry information. If your dog or the dog of a friend or relatives needs or would like a makeover just tell us why. The best way to demonstrate the need is to supply a picture!!!!

Thanks,
